

Short CV:

Heather Booth is Professor Emerita at the School of Demography, Research School of Social Sciences, Australian National University.

Qualifications:

BSc(Econ) Statistics, London School of Economics

MSc Social Statistics, University of Southampton

PhD Medical Demography, London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine

Her research interests are on human longevity and mortality; Socio-demography of population ageing as well as demographic modelling and forecasting.

She holds Associate positions at the Centre of Excellence in Population Ageing Research (Australia), the Centre for Population Change at the University of Southampton (UK) as well as the Interdisciplinary Centre on Population Dynamics at the University of Southern Denmark.

Heather Booth previous appointments:

London School of Economics; University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; UK Economic and Social Research Council; South Pacific Commission, New Caledonia

She is also working as Freelance International Consultant and at the Australian National University (since 1995). At the Journal of Population Research she is a Founding Editor.